

MEN WIDOUT WOMEN UOMINI SENZA DONNE

Alex, evicted from his house, moves to Max's place. The two, who have been friends for a long time, share emotional insecurity and instability, to the point that they are unable to have satisfying and lasting relationships with women. Alex is officially together with Paola, but he dreams about Eleonora, a mysterious woman who he hopes will call him up, but she never calls. Max goes out with Anna, a jazz singer, who gives her apartment to Alex, so that she can go and live with Max.
