

N-ICE CELLO

N-ICE CELLO - STORIA DEL VIOLONCELLO DI GHIACCIO

From the heart of a glacier in the Italian Alps, at 2.800 meters of altitude, an American sculptor, Tim Linhart, shaped a Cello, fully made of ice. Together with cellist and composer Giovanni Sollima they start a journey through Italy performing in the main cities to end up in Sicily, 1.500Km southern, for the last show in the magnificent Palermo theater.

An on the road impossible journey, a real adventure challenging time, complications and forces of nature to keep alive the most fragile freight ever.
