

NONE LIKE US NESSUNO COME NOI

The imperfections of love and its bitter consequences in Turin, Italy, during the '80s, before the social networks and smartphones. What happens to your heart when you discover that you're madly in love with your best friend? What happens to your soul when you find out that your teacher and life coach has been hiding a clandestine love with your best friend's father? What is the true meaning of friendship when you discover that it is the only antidote to heartbreak?
