

THE OUTPOST L'AVAMPOSTO

Christopher Clark, an eco-warrior, has established his unique Outpost of Progress in the heart of the Amazon rainforest — a utopian society based on the perfect balance between nature and technology, run and safeguarded by the forest's dwellers.

Unfortunately, the situation is getting worse every year, and a new wildfire now threatens to destroy the Outpost.

In a daring bid to capture the world's attention about the impending catastrophe and to urge the Brazilian government to create a protective reserve, Chris decides to take a bold gamble: organizing a spectacular Pink Floyd concert amid the verdant inferno.

After all, in the mind of a dreamer, the realm of possibilities knows no bounds.
