

WATCH OUT, WE'RE MAD ...ALTRIMENTI CI ARRABBIAMO!

A mechanic and trucker friend, mad about autocross, win a race on equal merit, the prize being a glowing dune buggy. Instead of sharing it, the two play for it by means of a show of gastronomic endurance, untimely interrupted by a band of motorcyclists, who turn the place upside down and destroy the dune buggy. The true objective of the gangsters is the nearby fun fair, which their boss wants eliminated so he can put up a skyscraper. But following a series of clashes, the two friends manage to scupper the plans of the property developer, obtaining two dune buggies from the latter to replace the one originally destroyed. No sooner have they started the engines, than they crash: one of the two catches fire and so of course they are obliged to play again for the remaining one.
