

WHERE ARE YOU GOING ON HOLIDAY? DOVE VAI IN VACANZA?

Three episodes, three funny couples and many great Italian actors.

Sarò Tutta Per Te (I Will Be All Yours): a dentist who has agreed to vacation with his ex-wife at her lover's villa. All he really wants to do is take her to bed one more time, but he is consistently interrupted in his attempts by the arrival of yet more guests.

Si Buana (Yes, Buana): a man in charge of a group of tourists in Kenya. One of this segment's highlights is the outspoken homesickness of his "native" black guide for the beauties of his homeland: Rome.

Le Vacanze Intelligenti (Intelligent Vacation): a greengrocer who, along with his wife, gets sent on a vacation by their well-meaning children who want to "improve" their parents' minds by sending them off to see Etruscan tombs, hear performances of atonal modern music, and appreciate the wonders of avant-garde modern art. In one of the most amusing vignettes, they see an art exhibit consisting of an enclosure filled with sheep with purple spots painted on their backs.
